BLOSSOMTIME

The apple and the cherry wear
Soft silken gowns of texture fair,
And nature's robing maid has combed their tresses with
With mantle new for flowering plum.
A most exquisite bit of dress
The red-veined crab trees now possess.
While that on which Jacarlot hung
With beads of coral pink is strung.

Oh, skillful seamstress, thus to drape
So charmingly the pear tree's
shape,
And all passers-by stare
At glories flowering almonds wear.

OBSTRUCTING COMMERCE

It is a grand, good thing
that Donald Nelson, slayer of economic dragons, in the course of loosening up production and distribution has got around to the obstruction
of interstate commerce.
Speaking of laws and regulations that hamper transportation of war materials,
he says:
"We are repeatedly finding that our struggle to save these materials is being tripped up by some non-essential or local law, not only in transportation and building construction but all across the board."

One big source of trouble,
he continues, is the confusion of state and local laws which limit the size, cargo and other features of commercial trucking. In Arkansas, workmen trying to pool their cars for riding to work
have been stopped by state police, who demand commercial carriers' licenses.

A great deal of normal business and traffic is choked to death by the prevalence of state laws
which, apparently in defiance of the United States Constitution, forbid the free flow of commerce across state lines. There may be local benefits derived from such barriers. But the natural result of such procedure, if practiced generally,
would be to turn this country into 48 rival business jurisdictions, all fighting
each other and paralyzing
business and national unity.

AXIS AGITATION

Axis spokesmen are agitated since Prime Minister Churchill warned gas attacks on the Russians will be the signal for widespread similar attacks by the RAF on Reich "military objectives."

They went into detail to deny any such intention and piously called attention to their agreement not to use this weapon. They blamed Britain with intent to plunge Europe into the most barbarous warfare known.

Two logical conclusions
can be drawn from the Axis yelp. One—the RAF has attained air superiority. The other is a humane reason.
Norwegians, Poles, Jews,
French, Belgians, Dutch,
Danish, Greeks and others
under the domination of the Nazi regime can answer
about the humane conclusion as can the Chinese, Fil-ippino and others overwhelmed by the Jap hordes.

It appears to us a tacit admission of superior Allied air power, and British claims of widespread destruction of vital industries and communications in the Reich must be correct.

And it might be added,
the Nazis are having trouble in keeping the populace of the conquered nations in hand.

Churchill and Roosevelt months ago asserted Hitler
was the main foe and no development would detract their purpose of crushing Hitler. There have been costly losses and setbacks
in the Pacific theatre, but the Allied Nations are apparently still after Germany
first.

Confucius' sayings aren't so popular as they were a little while ago, but they are still worth remembering. One of his remarks is,
"A man should not be concerned that he is not known; he should seek to be worthy to be known."

A far more effective cooling agent has been discovered for machine tools, and a lot of human beings are wondering when they'll get a similar break.

JOHN C. CALHOUN FRIDAY

an extensive street widening project involving main highways
through the city, beginning of work on a rail removal program, and inauguration of operations at the new sewer plant, immediately
were announced by Mayor John C.
Calhoun Friday morning.

U. S. Highway 75 is scheduled to be widened to 56 feet from city limit to city limit according to the approved plans and will be carried out in two units the first beginning at the Cotton Belt tracks and extending south to the intersection with U. S. Highway 287, and the other from the Cotton Belt to the north limits. Plans for Highway 31 entail for widening to 48 feet out to the city limits.

The mayor announced state and federal approval had been given the work, and WPA officials were expected to give their sanction soon and work would be undertaken as soon as possible.
The work on Highway 75 involves city participation of about $18,500 and the Highway 31 work about $19,400, mostly to be covered by WPA assistance.

Highway 31 West.
Mayor Calhoun also announced
he had been informed via telephone by District Engineer T. E.
Huffman of the State Highway department of the agreement by state and federal officials to the completion of Highway 31 west from Corsicana, with work on the section from Corsicana to Silver City expected to be under way in the near future, and the contract awarded on the Silver City to Lawson unit as soon as possible, with temporary wooden bridges to be installed until steel materials were available.

Removal of the street car rails
from West Seventh Avenue, south Fifteenth street and other city thoroughfares traversed by the old lines was scheduled to start Friday and be completed as soon as possible and the streets repaired.

He also announced the new sewer disposal plant, erected at a cost of more than $50,000, had been virtually completed except for landscaping and final cleanup and was being connected to the sewers and would be in operation by the end of the week.

To Repair Streets.
Materials have been ordered for repairs on paved streets of the city and the work will be pushed to completion as soon as possible
the mayor reported. The rail removal project is being handled with WPA assistance while the other repairs will be carried out under the regular municipal budget.

CANTEEN CLASSES WILL BE STARTED HERE NEXT WEEK

Why Is Canteen Service Important
in National Defense?

It meets the need for emergency group feeding.
In widespread epidemics.
In disasters such as fires, explosions, floods, and windstorms.
In disasters resulting from sabotage and bombings which may require the evacuation of areas.

To feed the armed forces at the request of the commanding officers. The call to feed men, women and children under emergency conditions may come at any time.
Women must be trained in preparation for the call.

The American Red Cross offers a 20-hour canteen course to those who have completed the 20-hour standard nutrition course.
Miss Christine Miller, will begin a course Tuesday, May 19th, at 2:30 p. m. at the American Legion Hall, for those who have completed the standard nutrition class as an emergency measure a short intensive course of 10-hours for canteen
aides has been initiated by the Red Cross.

During the emergency this brief course will be accepted as the equivalent of the canteen
course of 20-hours, and the nutrition course will be waived as a prerequisite as soon as possible.
The course will not supplant the long-range program of the Canteen Corps, it will rather, supplement
this program temporarily to meet the needs of the national emergency.

3.—The Canteen aides will be permitted to wear the canteen uniform, the aides may not wear the canteen pin, or receive the canteen certificate until they have completed the additional 30-hours
training required by Canteen Corps members.

taught in rotation by Mrs. R. F.
Irby, Miss Vera Sneed and Mrs.
R. E. Yelvington, beginning at

SOUTHERN BAPTIST CHURCHES PAY OFF BIG INDEBTEDNESS

SOUTHERN CONVENTION
CHURCHES RAISED TOTAL
OF $44,856,607 IN 1941

SAN ANTONIO, May 15.—(P)—
Churches in the Southern Baptist Convention have paid off approximately $10,000,000 indebtedness
within the last six years, E. P.
Aldridge, statistics officer of the convention, said today.

Aldridge, whose home is in Nashville, Tenn., is here to attend
the annual meeting of Southern Baptists opening Saturday.
The Baptists, he said, increased the value of their property within the last six years by $30,842,401, or an average of $5,185,480 a year.

Although there was an increase in the number of churches and in church membership in 1941, there was a decrease in the number of baptisms, Aldridge reported.
Records show, he pointed out,
that the largest number of new ministers were ordained in 1941 than in any previous year in the convention's 86-year history.

Total contributions for 1941, he said, amounted to $44,857,607, of which $37,035,287 went for local church work, while $7,822,340 went to missions and benevolences.
This is the largest amount ever given since the depression," he said.

The three same evils that caused the fall of the great Roman Empire today threatened to topple modern civilization, Rev. Roland
Q. Aiken, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Tampa, Fla., said in an address last night at the pastor's conference of the Southern Baptist Convention.

He said the world today suffers from (1) a breakdown in the home,
(2) a pleasure-seeking people and
(3) a nation-wide militaristic spirit that fosters vice among the populace.

To combat these evils, he suggested that pastors should join in a concerted effort to return the people to god.

He pictured the south as a great training field for Uncle Sam's soldiers and told the pastors that there was a wonderful evangelistic opportunity.
"If we win the soldiers here,
then they will return to their homes carrying the word of God."

Rev. August Henry, pastor of the First Baptist Church in McAlester, Okla., spoke on the pastor and his missions. He first described the work of the home missions and then suggested to the pastors how they could support them.

Mondays and Thursdays. The people were told it was the healthiest thing imaginable for them.

Jan. 16.—Tobacco rationing was tightened with the introduction of a smoker's ration card. Women over 25 were allotted half rations and the ration for men went down to three cigarettes or one tin of cigars daily in some localities, two cigarettes in other places.

Jan. 17.—Clearance sales were forbidden. The real reason: Dealers no longer had anything to "clear." The same day a drastic reduction in the number of passenger trains was announced.

Jan. 20.—Merchants were warned not to make barter deals. This decree was intended to curb black market operations, some merchants preferring to barter their wares for desirable goods held by customers rather than sell them for cash.

Jan. 22.—The nightly blackout hours were revised to save electric current.

Jan. 23.—Restaurants were ordered to close at 10 p. m. to save current and economize on help.

Two Eggs Per Month.

Jan. 30.—The ration of eggs for the month of February was set at two a person. An inventory of potatoes in private homes was ordered with the understanding that those with reserves would not be allowed to purchase more for some time.

Jan. 31.—Hat repairs, previously exempt from ration restrictions, were included in a list for which clothing "points" were required.

Feb. 1.—Berlin hotels were advised they could not accept guests for more than three consecutive weeks or rent rooms for office purposes. German persons had to overcome the coal shortage in their homes by taking warm hotel rooms.

Feb. 11.—All fairs and exhibitions in Germany—including the centuries-old Leipzig fair—were cancelled. This was an admission that German manufacturers had nothing to offer and the transportation problem was becoming more acute.

Feb. 12.—The purchase of mourning clothes was restricted to the closest relatives of the deceased.

Dancing Forbidden.

Feb. 14.—Dancing was forbidden even at private parties.

Feb. 17.—Copper coins were withdrawn from circulation and cheap metal tokens substituted.

Feb. 18.—The press announced that many more enterprises producing goods for civilian needs would be converted into plants producing solely for the army.

Feb. 19.—Rationing of petroleum began.

Feb. 20.—To save paper, families corresponding with soldiers at the front were told not to use envelopes. Shoppers were urged to bring travel bags to stores to carry home their purchases.

Feb. 21.—In Berlin, Breslau and other cities, seats were removed from street cars to permit the crowding of more people into already over-burdened public vehicles.

Alcoholic Rationing.

Feb. 24.—Throughout the state of Hesse, and presumably in other places, special ration cards for alcoholic beverages were introduced.

Feb. 27.—Butter rations were reduced to 62.5 grams (about two ounces) a person each week.

Feb. 28.—The sale of women's hats was banned.

March 1.—Manufacturers were told to use "ersatz" leaves for the outer covering of cigars.

March 6.—The food ministry ordered a survey of all available truck gardening space throughout Germany.

March 7.—Steel bottles used in certain industries were made subject to special permits.

March 12.—Farmers were urged to be most sparing and economical in the use of seeds during the spring planting.

Keep Incomes Liquid.

March 14.—Clubs, societies and benevolent institutions were warned not to amass fortunes but to keep their incomes liquid and at the disposal of the country.

March 15.—The collection of old and useless aluminum pots and pans was started.

March 17.—Anyone applying for a special ration card was warned he could expect a visit by an official who would make certain the article was needed.

March 23.—The slogan for the day was "Plant More Vegetables."

March 27.—Propaganda Minister Goebbels announced that profiteers and barterers would be punished with death.

March 31.—Potatoes for planting purposes were put on the ration list.

April 3.—Sunday rest for farmhands was suspended for the spring planting season.

April 28.—The building permits previously issued were revoked by the minister of munitions. The population was urged to put away leather shoes and use wooden shoes until late autumn.

April 12.—The collection of medicinal herbs was made a patriotic duty to recompense the country for loss of overseas medicaments.

April 16.—Vacations above 70 were told they might obtain a little more than a half pint of milk daily if they gave up their meat allowance of 2.2 pounds monthly.

April 16.—Vacations for civil service employees and officials were generally shortened. Ten days later they were abolished completely.

April 28.—The greatest economy in traveling was urged.

April 29.—Topcoats were rationed.

May 1.—Labor Leader Robert Ley told workers that the greatest sacrifices were still ahead.

May 7.—A council for munitions production was founded with the expectation of increasing war production further.

PACIFIC WAR

ly canceled the Japanese threat to the Burma road city of Paoshan, Chungking dispatches said.

The Chinese defense appeared to have lapsed into the sort of guerrilla infiltration tactics which have served them well in other sectors of the older war in China.

India Given Much Time

The fighting retreat of the British Imperial through Burma toward India was credited with providing forces in India five months to prepare for a Japanese attempt at invasion of that vast sub-continent. The monsoon in Burma may greatly enlarge the defensive advantage.

Further to hamper Japanese efforts in this direction, the growing British-American air power in India bombed Kailawa, 140 miles northwest of Mandalay where the Japanese, unopposed, had seized footholds on the Chinwin river.

The air war on the invasion approaches to Australia resulted over the weekend in destruction of 10 Japanese planes in New Guinea and the neighboring Louisiade Islands. Nine were destroyed in three swift assaults on the airbase at Lae, New Guinea, on Saturday.

Another Sea Fight in Prospect.

The prospects of another naval battle in the Coral Sea were pointed up by a Japanese report that two United States aircraft carriers, along with cruisers and destroyers had been sighted off the Solomon Islands, northeast of Australia.

Sir Keith Murdoch, managing director of the Melbourne Herald, declared today that the allies were unduly optimistic over the situation in the southwest Pacific and said that Australia must intensify press Washington with the need of many more ships.

Australia's prime minister, John Curtin, observed, however that "the help we asked for has come and it is still coming. We must not save ourselves by throwing someone else to the wolves."

ter Goebbels announced that profiteers and barterers would be punished with death.

March 31.—Potatoes for planting purposes were put on the ration list.

GERMAN MORALE

living conditions; false promises of peace; entry of the United States into the war; the dismissal of Field Marshal Walther von Brauchitsch; and tension between Heinrich Himmler's SS (Elite Guard) troops and the army.

In the German mind today, Hess is a traitor who flew to the enemy to reveal Hitler's general war strategy to the British.

Nothing disclosed the panic in high Nazi quarters better than the steps taken to counteract the demoralizing effects of Hess' flight. Police and plainclothes men were in a general state of alarm. Nazi wardheers in multifarious cafes and bars and other public centers to report any one discussing the Hess case.

First Big Smashup.

The departure of Hess was the first big smashup in the Nazi hierarchy since the blood purge of 1934. The amount of hussling could minimize its repercussions. When officials tried to explain the flight as the act of a "crazy man," the people asked themselves "are we being ruled by crazy men?"

Then came the invasion of Russia.

Germans were not prepared for it mentally. The advantage of attacking such a giant—with Britain unconquered—not only shook the military and political leadership from top to bottom, but for the first time shook general confidence in the ability of the Nazi military machine to swing anything it started.

Not even Hitler's tremendous victories against the Russians could change the conviction in the minds of a majority of Germans that he had tackled a job he couldn't finish.

"We've lost the war," was the common judgment.

The obvious efforts to hide the heavy casualties of the eastern campaign began to make Germans question for the first time the veracity of the high command's war communiqués. Propaganda phrases such as "our losses are low when compared with our successes" didn't sit well.

Casualty Reports Not Believed.

Though Hitler announced astonishingly low casualty figures, the law of averages told the Germans that the figures couldn't be right. The eastern campaign struck close to home. Everyone could count on relatives or friends within their small circles who had fallen or been badly wounded, and then strike the average.

The heavy losses hurt morale at home. At the same time, mothers, fathers and sweethearts of soldiers were receiving vivid accounts of the hardships and horrors on the Russian front.

Worry and fear aggravated the wartime sacrifices, discomforts, complaints and repression.

shot through the once buoyant spirit of confidence in an early victory with apprehension for the future.

Nazi persecution of the Catholic and Protestant faiths had embittered the faithful. Many find religion their last comfort.

Long Story of Sacrifices.

More than two years of conflict have been one long story of sacrifice and more sacrifice by the people at the crack of the Nazi party's whip. In that time, reserves which every household stored have dwindled away. Clothes are threadbare, with no chance of replacement. Store shelves are empty. Rations are becoming slimmer and slimmer.

Housewives spend most of their time day after day, standing in long lines to get food. Recollections of the hungry days after the first World War have been awakened.

Germans with "connections" are perhaps the only exceptions today. "I have a friend in the party," has become the formula for securing extra rations out of the storekeeper and exacting special privileges.

Illegal traffic in clothing and food rationing cards by petty Nazi officials at prices as high as 100 marks per card is widespread and countenanced.

Soft Party Jobs.

Bureaucracy and overlapping duties have grown out of hand to provide party favorites with soft wartime jobs at a safe distance from the fronts.

And so it goes—at the expense of the public morale, for such

Legion Auxiliary Sponsor Sale of Poppies Saturday

Poppies of patriotic remembrance will bloom in Corsicana on Saturday, May 23, Mrs. W. H. Milam, president of Johnson-Wiggin Unit No. 22 of the American Legion Auxiliary, announced today.

Every man, woman and child in the city will be asked to wear a poppy on that day in honor of the men who have given their lives for America. The poppies will be distributed by volunteer workers from the Auxiliary and will be used for them will be used for the war effort.

The poppies which will be distributed here have been made by disabled veterans at Veterans Hospital, Legions, Texas. Making the little red flowers has given many veterans employment during the winter and spring months. The work is limited to men receiving little or no government compensation and those with families to support.

Contributions received for the poppies on Poppy Day are a principal source of support for the welfare work carried out by the Legion and Auxiliary among the disabled men and their dependent families. With the new war adding to America's list of war victims, there will be greatly increased need for funds during the coming year.

Poppy Day has been observed by the Legion and Auxiliary for the past twenty years. With the nation again at war, the poppy has new significance this year and will be worn as a symbol of patriotism by millions of Americans throughout the country.

More than 13,000,000 of the flowers have been made by disabled veterans for the Auxiliary, the largest number since the observance of Poppy Day. Orders for poppies have been increased this year in anticipation of greatly increased demand for the flowers of patriotic remembrance.

Winners Announced Leadership Contest By Corsicana FFA

Winners of a leadership contest in which 40 members of the Corsicana Future Farmers of America participated were announced at a meeting of the local FFA chapter recently.

They were Gwynn Sutton, Eugene Beale, and Sonny Elliott, who won first, second and third places respectively. Each winner will receive a prize.

The contest consisted of manuscript writing and public speaking. Subjects of current importance pertaining to agriculture were used by the winners. Sutton secured first place by virtue of his speech on "The Need of Trained Farmers." Beale spoke on "The Need of Soil Conservation," and Elliott on "Farming, a Challenge and an Opportunity."

Corsicanan to Get Law Degree From Texas University

AUSTIN, May 18.—(Sp.)—After June 1 Texas will have 107 more lawyers, for that many University of Texas students will receive the Bachelor of Laws degree in June commencement exercises.

Probably less than that number will be on hand for the conferring of degrees, however, for a large number of law students have left for armed services within the past two months. Seniors who enlisted after April 1 receive full credit for their work and are granted their degrees in absentia. Among the degree candidates are: Murray Lee Harris of Corsicana.

Now Beaumont Police Chief. The many friends of Ross Dickey, former Corsicana resident, will be glad to learn that he has been appointed chief of police for the city of Beaumont.

MANY TEXAS CONGRESSMEN GET UNLIMITED GASOLINE CARDS BUT REP. JOHNSON'S CAR UNLICENSED

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(AP)—Many of the Texas members of congress have class "x" gasoline rationing cards, making them eligible for unlimited quantities of the fuel.

The office of price administration ruled that the duties of a congressman were of such an official nature that they might be entitled to class "x" cards.

Typical of the stand of most Texans was that expressed by representative Wright Papman of Texas. He got an "x" card.

"Any member who deprives himself of the opportunity of properly serving his constituents by failing to obtain sufficient gasoline to visit the many and widely separated departments of our government on official business is failing to render the service to his people he is obligated to render," declared Patman.

"Every member is on his honor. It is very doubtful that the privilege will be abused by any one of them and certainly not by a large number. The average member has 300,000 people in his district who are watching him and who are quick to condemn any unfair or unjust act on the part of a member."

"The first step toward a dictatorship is destroying the confidence of the people in the legislative body made up of their representatives. Every communist in this nation looks with great favor upon the efforts of those who are trying to undermine the confidence in the people. It creates disunity they like."

Some of the Texas members obtained class "b" cards entitling them to a small amount of gasoline over and above the 3-gallon per week limit is rationed out to class "a" motorists solely for pleasure riding. Of course, when the Texans return home they will not be governed by the rationing cards. It applies just to the Eastern Seaboard States and the District of Columbia.

Speaker Rayburn of Bonham didn't get a gas rationing card because he doesn't own an automobile. He has a big black limousine, with a chauffeur, at his service always, but it's an official car. Never the less, Rayburn was greatly concerned about the rumormongering over congressmen getting "x" cards.

He was indignant that such a tempest should be raised and expressed views similar to those by Patman.

Holder of an "x" card is representative Ed Gossett of Wichita Falls, who declared that if any federal officials here deserved them it is congressmen. They frequently have to go from Capitol Hill to departments with data concerning defense projects, or accompany constituents to conferences at various points over the city.

"Ninety per cent of my gasoline consumption is directly in line of duty," commented Gossett. "Of course I could use the public transportation system, but because of delays in transfers and waiting it would require about two hours additional time each day."

When the booth in the Capitol round was opened first for the convenience of congressmen seeking gasoline cards, the impression was current that they would all automatically get class "x" cards.

Lanham Changes. Representative Fritz G. Lanham of Fort Worth, along with scores of others early in the registration, got a class "x" card. He said he was told that only such cards were available for congressmen.

The next day there was some clarification of regulations passed on to the registrars. Upon learning he could get another kind, he turned and received one of class "b3" category allowing him 87 gallons until July 1. He figured that would be just about enough to carry him the 7 miles from his residence to the Capitol and back and to make a few urgent department calls.

Representative South of Coleman got an "x" card.

"It was issued with the statement and the understanding that only such gas be used as is necessary in the execution of official duties," said South. He observed that half the time he did not use his car at work and that his practice was general there certainly would be no abuse of "x" card privileges.

Representative Sam Russell of Stevenson received a b-2 card, which runs a little over 40 gallons between now and July 1.

Servant of People. "As a representative of the people I feel I am a servant of the people, and the servant is not a master," said Russell. "I wanted to share with the people in the sacrifices we all have to make. If I don't have enough gas to walk."

Representative Milton West of Brownsville got a class b-3 card, but said if he had it to do over he'd probably ask for a class "x" because he doubted if the quantity of gasoline allowed on a b-3 card was sufficient.

"If I use up my quota and have to go to one of these departments I'll just have to take a taxicab," he said. "That will still be using gasoline and the time of a man who has to do the driving."

Other Texas members getting "x" cards included representatives W. R. Poage of Waco, J. J. Mansfield of Columbus and Nat Patton of Crockett.

Representative Lindley Beckworth of Gilmer got a b-2, and Ewing Thomas of El Paso and George Mahon of Colorado City a b-3. Representative Kieberg of Corpus Christi left the city while the registration was in progress and didn't get a card.

Representative Luther Johnson of Corsicana has a 1934 model sedan parked on blocks in the Capitol garage. Unused for a long time, he does not have it licensed this year and so did not ask for any gas card. Representative Hatt W. Summers of Dallas doesn't own a car so didn't get a card.

ANNOUNCE SCHEDULE OF EVENTS CLOSING CORSICANA SCHOOLS

FINAL EXAMINATIONS AND COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES ARE LISTED

A comprehensive report on arrangements for final examinations and commencement exercises in the elementary and high schools was issued Saturday by Superintendent W. H. Norwood.

Final examinations in the elementary schools will be arranged in order to be concluded Wednesday morning, May 27. Children will receive their report cards on Friday afternoon, May 29, at 1 o'clock. First, second and third grade pupils will be dismissed Wednesday at the close of school, thus giving the elementary teachers Thursday and Friday to complete their reports.

In the junior and senior high schools the final examinations will begin Monday, May 25, and close Wednesday, May 27, at noon. Wednesday afternoon and Thursday will be used for grading papers and making reports. The pupils will receive their report cards on Friday afternoon, May 29, at 1 o'clock. Exceptions may be made by the principals for those graduating from the junior and senior high school.

The high school Alumni Association will hold its annual meeting Monday night, May 25, at 8:30 o'clock at the senior high school. Mrs. Jay Silverberg is president of the association. An interesting and entertaining program is being planned in connection with the affair and will be announced later. Members of the 1942 graduating class will be formally inducted into the association.

Graduating exercises of the department of accredited music and speech will be held Tuesday night, May 26, at the senior high school, beginning at 8:30 o'clock.

Commencement exercises for the junior high school will be held Friday morning, May 29, at 10 o'clock in the junior high auditorium.

Corsicana high school graduates will receive their diplomas Friday night, May 29, at 8:30 o'clock at Tiger Field. In event of rain, the program will be held in the senior high school auditorium at the same hour.

Baccalaureate services for the senior graduating class will be held Sunday night, May 24, in the high school auditorium with the Rev. Gordon A. MacInnes, pastor of the Third Avenue Presbyterian Church, delivering the sermon. Ministers conducting the baccalaureate services each year are selected by the graduating class.

RULES ESTABLISHMENT MAXIMUM PRICES CITED; MERCHANTS MUST SHOW 'COST-OF-LIVING' PEAKS

DALLAS, May 16.—(Special)—Business men seeking to establish maximum prices, into effect on May 18, on articles that were not sold during March and had no offering price—such as a new line of canned goods—have definite rules to follow under the Maximum Price Regulation, Max L. McCullough, region administrator of the Office of Price Administration, said today.

Ceiling prices on such commodities, Mr. McCullough said, can be determined in this way:

1. The seller must establish as his maximum price the highest price charged in March, 1942, for the most nearly similar article. The seller cannot use his own discretion to adjust the maximum price for the new article up or down because it may vary in grade or quality or size, but must adhere strictly to the "March highest" price of the most similar article.

"Similar Commodity" is defined as one that has the same use, gives the same fairly equivalent service, and is of a type which ordinarily would be sold in the same price line.

2. In cases in which a seller did not deal in the same or similar commodities or services during March, 1942 (for example, a person who took on a completely new line of goods during April), he must base his maximum price on the highest price charged during March by his most closely competitive seller of the same class. The seller here cannot use the prices of a more pretentious store in a better neighborhood, but must find a store as nearly like his own as possible. If the "competitive seller" does not have, item by item, the same brands and grades of goods, the seller seeking prices must apply the most nearly similar commodity standard as outlined above.

3. In fixing a maximum price on wholly new articles which have no standard of comparison, the seller will select the fastest moving comparable article of the same classification, divide its maximum price by its current replacement cost and multiply the percentage result by the cost of the new article. For example, you are trying to price a straw hat which did not sell or offer for sale during March, 1942. Then you may compare it with a felt hat of the same general price range. For instance, divide $2.00 (current replacement cost of felt hat) into $2.80 (maximum price of felt hat) and get 1.4 percent. Multiply that percentage (1.4) by cost of new article, or, in this case, the straw hat, $2.20 (an example) and you get your maximum price for the straw hat, or $3.08. This figure must be reported to the nearest OPA field office within 10 days.

General Regulation. Here's what every retailer must do to conform to the OPA's General Maximum Price regulation:

1. With few exceptions he cannot sell any commodity at a price higher than he charged in March 1942, beginning May 18.

2. He must mark the maximum prices of cost-of-living commodities (listed below) on the commodities or on the shelf or bin in which the commodities are kept, by May 18.

3. The retailer must file a list of such prices with the nearest Price and Rationing board by June 1, 1942.

4. He must keep this statement up-to-date by filing a supplementary list the first of each month covering any items on the cost-of-living list which he begins to handle during the preceding month.

5. Every person who owns or acquires one or more retail stores must register each of these stores with the Office of Price Administration and receive a certificate of registration. (Time and place of registration will be announced later.)

6. Every retailer has been licensed automatically by the Regulation.

7. He must assemble and preserve immediately the following records:

a. All existing records pertaining to the prices he charged during March, 1942.

b. Continue to make and preserve all records he has customarily kept after the effective date of the price order.

c. Make and preserve all records showing the basis on which he determined maximum prices for any commodity.

8. The retailer must prepare a statement of his base period (March, 1942) prices on ALL commodities and a statement of any discounts or allowances which he offered to different classes of customers during the base period. On and after July 1, 1942, the retailer shall permit any person to examine these records during business hours. The retailer has until July 1, 1942, to work up such a list.

Following is the list of commodities designed by the Price Administrator as cost-of-living commodities, with asterisks (*) identifying those on which the retailer may post the ceiling prices by price-line:

MEN INDUCTED INTO ARMY TO BE GIVEN TIME GET READY

WASHINGTON, May 16.—(AP)—The Selective service system is going to make it easier for men inducted into the army to adjust their personal affairs before beginning active duty.

Effective June 15, an official announcement said today, all registrants who so desire will be transferred to an enlisted reserve corps immediately on induction and sent home at government expense for 14 days to arrange their business and family affairs. They would then return to active service.

The new system is designed to eliminate injustices complained of in the present arrangement of granting ten-day furloughs upon request. In some instances such furloughs have been denied.

In many cases the inductees were unable to pay their transportation home, especially since the furloughs were given at reception centers instead of induction places closer to their homes.

Sugar Rationing Clerk.

Miss Lurene French, WPA worker, is now a clerical worker in the office of the Navarro county rationing board here in a WPA records project dealing with the sugar rationing work. The work includes the setting up of alphabetical registration files and the compiling of reports and the filling out of forms in this work.

Sick and Convalescent.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fowler at the P. and S. Hospital early Saturday morning.

size 6 by 9 feet and larger; linoleum; felt base floor covering; bed sheets and sheeting, cotton; towels, cotton bathroom and kitchen; blankets and comforts; house curtains; bed spreads, cotton; tablecloths and napkins, plain and print (cotton only); window shades.

The list also includes gasoline, ice, various fuels, and miscellaneous hardware, and agricultural supplies. These miscellaneous items include hay, forks, garden rakes, axes, shovels, paints, vegetable seeds, etc.

Extension of Time

WASHINGTON, May 16.—(AP)—The Office of Price Administration Friday extended from June 1 to July 1 the time within which retail store keepers must file price lists on cost of living commodities with local war price and rationing boards.

The revision of the universal price order does not change, however, the requirement that the specific cost of living articles must be posted plainly in each store beginning May 18.

The cost-of-living commodities are a selected few of the millions of articles covered by the price order which are accorded special treatment for the information of the buying public.

The extension on the price list filing date was granted, OPA said, to relieve somewhat the burden of physical work imposed by the order on merchants whose stock might contain thousands of items.

New County-Wide Drive To Collect Scrap Announced

A new county-wide campaign to collect all the remaining scrap metal for use in war materials will be inaugurated in the near future under the sponsorship of state and federal agencies according to an announcement by W. E. McKinney, chief of Navarro county civilian defense.

Fred D. Prince has been named county chairman for the drive with Claude L. Milburn as vice chairman and committees are being set up in every incorporated town and precinct to make as clean a sweep as possible.

The drive was launched at the request of Gov. Coke Stevenson and will have the co-operation and support of federal agencies as well. Actual date of the collections will be announced as soon as the organization can be completed.

Chief McKinney declared the entire civilian defense strength would be put behind the effort.

Severely Burned When Tanker Sunk

Joe Henry, merchant marine fireman, aged 24 years, returned to New Orleans Thursday to report for duty after visiting his mother, Mrs. Lulu Henry, 1337 West Sixth avenue, while recuperating from severe burns.

Henry has been with oil tankers plying from Gulf to Atlantic seaports for the past six years. It was stated, and several months ago his ship was torpedoed and sunk by a submarine. Henry was severely burned about the back and other portions of his body, relatives related, when oil on the surface of the water became ignited. He was in a New Orleans hospital several weeks before coming home. Henry also is a nephew of Mrs. P. H. Robeson.
